WELDON SPRING

Public Hearing Scheduled On Plan To Bury Wastes

Federal agencies in charge of the Super Fund cleanup at Weldon Spring will hold a public hearing Wednesday on proposals to bury millions of tons of radioactive and chemical waste on a 42-acre site at the old defense plant.

The hearing begins at 7 p.m. at The Columns Banquet and Conference Center, 711 Fairlane Road, St. Charles. The deadline for written comments on the proposals is Jan. 20.

The hearing will be preceded by a public exhibition of technology used at the clean-up site. The exhibition will open at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. For more information, call the project's community relations office at 441-8086.
