July 14, 1998, Cleanup Progress Briefing Evaluation Results

15 people completed the evaluation forms.

1. Were the meeting location and conference room convenient? Yes 13 No 2

Comments:

- No!! I can't do steps and walking. I did not know I would have to walk or I would not have come. (Jane Harper)
- Yes to DOE, not to older stakeholders. Check with the older people.
- Very nice - should use it more!. (Lisa Crawford)
- Very much so. This is so much better than the Alpha Building. Gaining access was no problem at all. Parking was much better.
- Yes, very much. (Nick Jonson)

2. Would you prefer to hold future meetings at the Fernald site or at a local off-site facility? Fernald site 10 Off-Site Facility 2 Don't Care 3

Comment: On-site would be great. Need better set up. It seemed like public members were way far in the back of the room - tough to get eye and facial expressions. Although, during Q&A, it was good to have the questions being generated in the back and answers up front..

3. We'd like your feedback on the video: "Second Chance: White Metal Box Lessons Learned." Was the video an effective tool for communicating the lessons learned resulting from the white metal box incident?

- It is effective. (Jim Chandler)
- Yes, effective and innovative way to inform.
- Liked bulleted pages at end so other folks could stop on them and discuss their thoughts. Like Don's tie too!
- Not as informative as some others you have done. (Jane Harper)
- I don't think I got the overall lessons learned. To short on the actual lessons learned.
- What did it cost? Cut the info-mercial. (No name)
- Pretty good, quick, down and dirty, informative. Note -- Don looked strange with a tie/ not himself. He should lose the white shirt and tie. (Pam Dunn)
- Yes - good.
- Tell Don to loose the tie! Pretty good video - down and dirty. Easy to understand! (Lisa Crawford)
- Kind of long/slow moving pace.
- A good general overview of the five problem areas but it would have been nice to have someone from the DOE's investigative team speak in the video. (Nick Jonson)
- Yes - good.
- Didn't come across that Fernald would oversee the manufacturing and testing of the white box before accepting finished product. Good video.

2. Please indicate any comments or questions about the project managers' presentations on the major site cleanup projects, or Dennis Carr's presentation on the On-site Disposal Facility Operations.

- Effective and informative.
- Liked Building 32 video!
- Dennis Carr's was very good.
- Informative. Need to keep OSDF updates regular. Dennis did a good job and the others. (Pam Dunn)
- Good presentation - short, sweet: a lot of information. This was a good example of a good presentation (Carr's). Meetings are too long. Need to cut some folks shorter. (Lisa Crawford)
- It was much easier to hear. Nice to have more tables. John Kappa is great. Rob Janke is way too long.
- Dennis' presentation was excellent in that it contained the necessary and appropriate amount of detail on waste flow to the OSDF. (Nick Jonson)
