Gentlemen:

Your January 20, 1994, letter regarding the Sitewide Treatability Studies program, under the Interagency Agreement, was not received until January 28, 1994. Several points were made in your letter that we need additional time to consider. Most notably, we need more time to consider your mandate that all Sitewide Treatability Studies are to be completed by November 12, 1994.

Because of the late receipt of this letter, and the 14 day time period required by Paragraph 109 (Resolution of Disputes) of the Interagency Agreement, to invoke Dispute Resolution, we wish to extend the 14 day period an additional 14 days. Extending the 14 day "window" to invoke Dispute Resolution, to February 17, 1994, will allow us time to meet with you to discuss your letter and determine if we can resolve your concerns or if we want to invoke formal Dispute Resolution. A meeting with your staff was held February 2, 1994, where we discussed the main aspects of the letter. We are encouraged that you are willing to allow other treatability tests to replace the original 13 tests identified in the Final Sitewide Treatabilities Studies Plan, as this was the basis of going to the annual Treatability Studies Program. The next meeting is currently planned for February 9, 1994, to further discuss resolution of your letter.

Scott Grace is the Rocky Flats point of contact. He can be reached at 966-7199.

Sincerely,

Mark N. Silverman
