Purpose of Contact Integrated Sitewide Environmental Data System (ISEDS) – missing data observation

Discussion

Andy notified me on May 11, 2004 that there appeared to be problem in one of the ISEDS surface water field parameter data files and sent me an email with missing sample number from a previous ISEDS data pull I responded that I would check into and verify the data discrepancy After extracting several different types of data files from ISEDS, I contacted Andy on May 13, 2004 and confirmed that several ISEDS data files had data discrepancies I reported that I would get back to him on the why there is a data discrepancy As of today May 19, 2004 there are several surface water and groundwater data files that contain either zero records, truncated records (partial), or all the records A possible cause appears to be a memory problem between the servers on each side of the firewall during the monthly data exchange/refresh especially with large files Our IT personnel were already working on this as we had experienced a similar problem with the EDDIE site with large pdf files I hope to have this issue resolved by the beginning of June
