Dear Friends:

Attached are the responses to comments for the detailed analysis of alternatives tech memo, along with a redlined version of the TM and the summary table. Most of the proposed changes have been incorporated, and thank you all very much for your quick responses. A couple of issues have been held out for more discussion, including what we say about what the signs will say, and Dan's concern regarding alternative 1 and the covenant. Also, when we say "borrowing animals", we mean "borrowing animals".

Looking forward to discussing; let me know if you have any questions in the meantime.

JR
